

SCENARIO 8
Scenario Type	Passive protester
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	Attend main Street re ongoing protest for climate change. Subject is seated in the middle of the junction blocking the roadway. You are to ask the subject to move and update the Area Control Room prior to taking any further action. At this point, the Area Control Room will inform students to arrest the subject, however 30 further protesters (eta 30 secs) are approaching locus and a cordon is required to prevent them taking control of the junction. There is no supervisor at locus. The situational training will cease when you inform the trainer that the junction has been secured and subject has been arrested and removed from locus.
Role Player Brief	You are a protester sitting on the roadway. When approached by the officer's state you are peaceably protesting and will not be moving. You will lie on your front tuck arms under body and refuse to be arrested, offering slight resistance when officers take control of you.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force, whilst under pressure. Taking charge and implementing cordons in the absence of a supervisor and demonstrate safe 4 person carry.

SCENARIO 9
Scenario Type	Domestic Incident – Shield (buckler?)
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE 2x buckler Shield(s), Foam baton/knife, set out notional room (use cones or pads), FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You have been deployed to a house on main street regarding a domestic incident. The reporter has stated they have been assaulted by their partner and have left the house. The reporter further states that their partner is still in the house and has a baseball bat/knife.
Role Player Brief	Your partner has just told you that they are leaving you. Once officers arrive, open and stand at the door with the bat/knife, but make no threats against them. After some discussion with the officers become more agitated. If officers have a shield, walk towards the shield hit it with the bat/knife. If officers deploy PAVA, it will not be effective and you will continue towards officers.  If officers deploy batons continue towards officers to assault them but once struck, drop weapon and allow them to arrest you.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning, demonstrate use of buckler shield, PAVA/batons and the appropriate use of force to arrest subject.

SCENARIO 10
Scenario Type	Licence Premise B
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE 1x plastic bottle / clear plastic pint glass, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You are on patrol when a call is received from the Licensee of The Dog and Duck public house who reports that one of the regulars has just been ejected from the premise following an argument with the Licensee who refused to serve any more alcohol due to his/her drunken state. The licensee has stated that they have started shouting abuse from outside the premises.
Role Player Brief	You have been ejected from your local pub by the landlord who refused to sell you any more alcohol due to your drunken state You are drunk and have recently received a redundancy notice from work As the Officer(s) approach you will be verbally non-compliant and aggressive, making rude gestures and acting in a drunken manner. Have a broke bottle (plastic) or similar in your hand and be waving it around. Move aggressively towards one officer. Regardless of which item of PPE is used it will be effective and you should react appropriately. You will however also complain loudly about the Officer(s) use of force on you.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force whilst under pressure.

SCENARIO 11
Scenario Type	Housebreaking
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, Foam baton, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You receive a call to attend an insecure industrial premise. A witness has seen a suspicious person in dark clothing enter the premises carrying a holdall type bag. On arrival at the premises and having checked the exterior you notice that the only entry/exit point is a door which is insecure, with signs that the lock has been forced.
Role Player Brief	You will be hidden and when officers enter you will jump out and brandish the foam baton above your head. Do not strike the officers but keep moving towards them. If PAVA is deployed, or if a baton is used drop to the floor. When officers move in to take control begin to struggle until sufficient control is gained.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force whilst under pressure.

SCENARIO 12
Scenario Type	Domestic Incident – Violent
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You have been sent to a report of an assault where the reporter has been assaulted by their partner and has sustained a suspected broken nose and requires immediate medical assistance. The reporter believes the offender has left the scene, but is still in the area. The offender is highly intoxicated and extremely agitated. They have a previous conviction for police assault (punched an officer following a previous domestic incident).
Role Player Brief	You and your partner have had a domestic dispute whereby you have punched your partner in the face causing a broken nose. You have been drinking heavily and are very agitated. You have left the scene to cool off, but you intend to return shortly On arrival of the police, dependant on venue available you will either: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Be hiding outside and follow the Officers into the premises OR - Be hiding inside the premises At some point you will become aggressive with the Officers, either by threats or actions. Use of PAVA, baton will have a limited effect on you.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force whilst under pressure.

Scenario Type	Non-Compliant, knife
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You are on duty and being deployed to the Dog & Duck Public House. Information has been received that a male, who has a head injury, is wandering around the pub approaching customers and being abusive towards them. He was told by the licensee to stop causing problems. The male told him to “fuck off” and pulled what looked like a knife out of his coat pocket.
Role Player	You are under the influence of alcohol and have been involved in a fight earlier, during which you received a cut to the head. When approached by the police, produce knife and move towards one officer, simulating assaulting them. If officer tries to take control, resist. If officer uses PAVA, it will only be effective if directed in the eyes.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force whilst under pressure. PAVA aftercare if applicable

SCENARIO 14
Scenario Type	Robbery
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	Officers have attended at Main Street to speak to two witnesses. They identify an individual standing nearby, stating that this person has threatened them with a knife and stolen their wallet. The situational training will cease when the Officers/staff have been stabbed or subject arrested.
Role Player Brief	You have a knife and will deny the allegation. You will keep your hands in pockets and if officers move into 'Zone 2' take the knife out and lunge towards officers with intent to stab/slash.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officers to demonstrate effective tactical positioning, tactical communication, and control of subject to arrest. Officers will have to consider all tactical options as per edged weapon defence.

SCENARIO 15
Scenario Type	Violent Drug Addict
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE, Foam baton, FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	The subject is a drug addict who has been seen by a neighbour in his garden waving a baseball bat in the air and shouting threats. The caller has also seen the subject inside the house, and he appears to be suffering from the effects of drink or drugs.
Role Player Brief	You are a drug addict, who is involved in a dispute with your neighbour. You have been shouting threats in the garden, which has annoyed the neighbour and they have called the police. You are under the influence of drugs at the moment and are aggressive and irrational. You are to challenge the attending Officer(s). You should be verbally aggressive, and non-compliant. You should make the Officer(s) aware of your possession of a baseball bat. You should continue to threaten officers and walk towards one of them with the bat raised. If PAVA is deployed, it will not take effect for at least 10 seconds and continue towards officers. If PAVA used, but does not get eyes, then will have no effect.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officers to use effective tactical communications and tactical positioning. If any PPE is used then it should be done as per their training. Reassess tactics via NDM.

SCENARIO 16
Scenario Type	Concern for person
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE (including safety glasses) 1x plastic edged weapon, set out room (cones or pads), FIST suit (if appropriate)
Student Brief	You attend at an address to check on the welfare of a male who is causing his family concern. They suffer from mental health issues and haven't been taking their medication.
Role Player Brief	You are an emotionally and mentally distressed person who is having hallucinations about being abducted by aliens. You will have a plastic-edged weapon hidden on your person. You will let the Officer(s) approach and enter the room and talk to you. Pace backwards and forwards and when you turn your back on the officers take the knife out and threaten the officers before attacking them with the knife.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officer to use effective tactical communication, tactical positioning and the appropriate use of force whilst under pressure.

SCENARIO 17
Scenario Type	Custody: Violent Prisoner Removal
Scenario Requirements	Role player, Officer PPE
Student Brief	Officers/staff attend at the police office with an individual arrested for an apprehension warrant. They are handcuffed and have been searched. The subject is threatening violence, and as such, the officers/staff will escort the subject to a cell and exit safely. The situational training will cease when you inform the trainer that the officers/staff have left the cell.
Role Player Brief	You will officer verbal resistance and threaten violence towards the officer. You will simulate a struggle.
Objective	The aim of this scenario is for the officers to take appropriate control of the subject and utilise a Violent Prisoner Removal team to place the subject in a cell and exit safely.

Objective

DRILLS

Blocks facilitation drill 1

One officer in stance and remains stationary

Subject has arms outstretched. Subject tries to touch officer in shoulder or hip area.

Note: This exaggerated attack forms muscle memory for the officer. This drill allows officers to practice good technique. Officer should focus their attention to centre of subjects body mass to widen view. Speed can be adjusted and multiple hits to same area can be achieved.

Drill 2

15 second facilitation exercise

One officer in stance and can move as drill is being performed

Subject naturally tries to touch shoulder or hip area on officer.

Officer uses blocks to stop subject touching area.

After 15 seconds stop exercise and swap roles.

Note: Watch as students move about that they don't collide with each other or trip on mats

Strike facilitation drills

Officer has eyes closed

Subject moves around officer and grabs hold of officer simulating an attack

Officer should open their eyes and make a tactical decision on what strike they would use. No strike should make contact on subject. Reset and try this a few times before switching roles.

Drill 2

Officer has eyes closed

Subject simulates grabs or attacks

Officer opens eyes and reacts with what technique instinctively works.

Note: officer has eyes closed so they do not follow subject and attack angles can vary.

The drills should be controlled and done at a controlled speed to reduce the chance of injuries occurring. The officer should not make contact to ensure there is no injury to subjects.

Serious aggravated resistance

Arm grab 15 second facilitation exercise

Student should have knife in hand.

Officer holds onto arm/wrist area as previously taught.

On command subject uses resistance to make attempts to stab officer in body area or break free.

Note: If officer loses control they will reset and continue drill. Resistance levels can vary depending on training partners

Arm wrap 15 second facilitation exercise

Student has knife in hand

Officer holds onto arm as previously taught

On command subject uses resistance to move officer and retrieve weapon

Note: If officer loses control they will reset and continue drill. Resistance levels can vary depending on training partners

Strike drills

Officer has eyes closed

Subject moves around officer and grabs hold of officer simulating an attack

Officer should open their eyes and make a tactical decision on what strike they would use. No strike should make contact on subject.
Reset and try this a few times before switching roles.

Drill 2

Officer has eyes closed

Subject simulates grabs or attacks

Officer opens eyes and reacts with what technique instinctively works.

Note: officer has eyes closed so they do not follow subject and attack angles can vary.
